

A Christmas Carol: The Drama

CSA Word is now delighted to welcome to its label the first in a new series of classic radio dramas from the golden age of radio. Throughout the 30s, 40s and 50s, radio was the major form of communication and home entertainment - investing in big stars and lavish productions. A Christmas Carol was originally broadcast on 23rd December 1938. Now fully remastered on audio CD, it was directed and hosted by Orson Welles - most famous for his appearance in Citizen Kane - and the leading light in The Mercury Theatre Ensemble. Agnes Moorehead and Joseph Cotten who plays Nephew Fred here, were also regular players in his multi-talented repertory group. An honest and heart-warming tale based on the original book by Charles Dickens, this truly atmospheric and entertaining production is sure to charm and warm the hearts of all audio and radio fans. And listen out for Welles playing that most of misers Ebenezer Scrooge too!
